Todo-manager will be able to add tasks to a list and keep track of their completion. Todo-manager will also have a categorizing feature to help users manage their tasks.

My plan is to first make the front-end of the app and integrate it later with the back-end. I am going to start with the requirements of the CVWO tasks and gradually add features mentioned in the optional section of the CVWO tasks.